Tasks & Milestones updated to reflect decision points

Diego Maranan, Jan 18 2008 04:50 AM, 11 Posts

Hi everyone,

"Please add decision/approval points (when PEF and CCLFI needs to comment/decide/approve something e.g. Alpha version) in the Activity Plan you drafted." [Dr. Talisayon]

I've now added these in the activity plan, which ... More...

Updates Part 2

Diego Maranan, Jan 08 2008 04:07 AM, 11 Posts

Hello again,

First, I just want to acknowledge that the project management site is not completely ideal. Some of the site is really much too cluttered for my liking. Sorry about that! It's just that Zoho Projects is the one free service that ... More...

Answered during meeting.

Feb 27 version: for board and staff

April 9 version: for partner organizations (pending further discussion of PEF's readiness to incorporate KPA in their process)

"PAC" means Partnership Access Center -- the local mechanism developed by PEF to engage and involve local NGOs in a priority province through a partnership with PEF to implement antipoverty projects in their own locality. Buy-in of PACs in KPA framework is crucial for the next step of field validation and tools development.

PACs have much field experience that can enrich KPA. More info on PAC is available from the PEF website.

I see 2 important target users: (A) development funding agencies (who are looking for new effective ways to ensure success of antipoverty projects), and (B) development workers in the field (who are looking for useful tools).

The action I want from A is to read, download or inquire more about what is KPA and whether it works in actual practice.

The action I want from B is to read, download or inquire about new development tools.

I want both A and B to better see the implications of the KPA approach, e.g. a quote or video clip of a rural project beneficiary talking about how her life had changed after the project and conveying her new sense of confidence, or her sense of ownership over the project; or a simple checklist of intangible assets showing why a particular project was successful.
